This bibliography encompasses a broad definition of multiculturalism, including issues of race, ethnicity, gender, age, disability, home language, social class, sexual orientation, and religion.

We would like to express our appreciation to Dean David Taylor of the University of Minnesota’s General College for his support of this project.

Ng, R., Staton, P., & Scane, J. (Eds.). Anti-racism, feminism, and critical approaches to education. Westport, CT: Bergin & Garvey.

University diversity: Earlier this year, the University of Michigan Law School’s admissions policies were ruled unconstitutional by a federal judge who said they were, practically indistinguishable from a quota system (2001, September, 1).
