Boost your brainpower with Saturday Scholars!

The College of Education and Human Development Alumni Society invites you to get your mind in gear with the Saturday Scholars program. Your half-day workout will consist of:

Stretching the limits of your intellect. You'll learn from CEHD faculty members who are among the nation's preeminent scholars. Spirited discussion is highly encouraged, as well as a willingness to learn in informal, small-group settings. Leave your study guides at the door: There are no quizzes, tests, or grades in our classes!

Bulking up with knowledge you can apply. Explore the connection between youth development and sport or the future of education in the 21st century. Whatever your academic background, you will enjoy connecting with alumni and friends while being energized with new knowledge.

Exploring the Weisman Art Museum's "Stories from the Somali Diaspora" exhibit. This photographic exhibition offers a candid look at the forced dispersal of the Somali population from their traditional homeland, documented by Somali-born photographer Addi Roble.

This program will award CEUs for teachers and administrators. Call 612-626-8782 for information on CEUs for other professions.

CLASS SCHEDULE

- 8-8:45 AM Registration and continental breakfast
- 8:45-9 AM Welcome and college update by Interim Dean Jean Quam
