

Family Social Science

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Driven to DiscoverSM

College of Education + Human Development

104 Burton Hall | 178 Pillsbury Drive S.E. | Minneapolis, MN 55455
612-625-3339 | cehd.umn.edu/first-year

Recycled
Supporting responsible
use of forest resources
Cert no. SPP-COC-002309
www.fsc.org
© 1996 Forest Stewardship Council

The University of Minnesota is an equal opportunity educator and employer. For alternative formats of this publication contact 612-626-9252.

Printed on recycled paper containing 100-percent postconsumer content that is EcoLogo, Processed Chlorine Free- and Forest Stewardship Council-certified, and manufactured using clean water power, renewable windpower credits, and carbon offset credits.

CE+HD

College of Education + Human Development

THE CE+HD ADVANTAGE Our students take many paths through our College, but they are all committed to one vision: a better future.

What is central to your life? For many people, it's their relationships with others—friends, family, and communities. The family social science program gives you the tools to improve the lives of individuals, families, and communities of any gender, definition, or age. You can adapt the major to your goals and interests so you get what you want from your education. You'll benefit from enthusiastic and supportive faculty, a diverse program with many points of view and resources, and a multidisciplinary approach that will prepare you for many different careers with real impact.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

A close-knit department gives lots of personal attention, and a large metropolitan university offers countless resources and things to do

Learning abroad opportunities, such as studying food and families in Thailand

A program philosophy that values outreach and community engagement

Research opportunities for undergraduates, such as studying welfare changes and rural low-income families

A field study internship or a research internship gives you a head start on a career or an advanced degree

Highly engaged, knowledgeable, and diverse faculty

CAREERS WITH MEANING

Potential careers include:

Couple and family counseling

Social work

Public health

Parent/child education

Family life education

This program also prepares students for advanced degrees in family social science, marriage and family therapy, family policy, social work, child development, and more.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Foundation courses, such as economics, statistics, and human development

Major courses, including Family Policy, Methods in Family Research, Global and Diverse Families, and a senior internship or field study with families

Professional core courses—Counseling Skills Practicum; Alcohol and Drugs: Families and Culture; Families and Aging; Parent-Child Relationships, and more

SEE YOURSELF HERE

The College of Education and Human Development offers a unique blend of classroom learning and real-world experiences. We prepare students to make a difference in the lives of individuals, families, and communities.

The best way to see what we're all about is to visit our Twin Cities campus. Schedule your visit through the University's Office of Admissions, and tell them you're interested in the College of Education and Human Development. See admissions.tc.umn.edu/visit or call 1-800-752-1000 or 612-625-0000 (TTY 612-625-9051).

FIND OUT MORE

For information about the College, including program details, career services, and more, check our Web site:

cehd.umn.edu/first-year