We learned of so many different experiences about how people are building peace in different parts of the world.

I learned new tools for peacebuilding.

I learned to listen and pay attention more to other person’s feelings because they are a human being like me.

The overall value of this training is very high, because during these days we learned a lot of things.
I experienced restorative justice and healing. I really appreciated the circle process, the activity in the prison, and the relaxation exercises. Excellent trainers, readings and materials.

This was a great experience for all of us about peacebuilding, dialogue and very interesting circles

The prison visit was deeply enlightening and deeply touching.

Plenty of self-inspiring stories and experiences.

It was a great workshop. Thanks
