Dear Graduates,

On behalf of the faculty, staff, and students of the College of Education and Human Development at the University of Minnesota, let me first and foremost say CONGRATULATIONS! We are here today to celebrate your major achievement with your families, friends, and fellow students.

As your journey continues—here in Minnesota, across the nation, or around the globe—you will surely impact others as they in turn will impact you. I wish for you amazing opportunities, great friendships, and a future of possibilities.

As you go forth in your chosen fields, remember learning is a lifelong opportunity. I hope you will apply what you have discovered during your time here with us and also stay open to growing from everyone and everything in the days and years to come. It is this continuous process of discovery and growth that allows us to best use our gifts to improve lives and to appreciate fully the greatest gift of all—the gift of learning.

CEHD is proud of you. I am particularly excited to see how you make a difference as a member of CEHD alumni. And don’t consider this a farewell. We look forward to continuing our relationship with you as a lifelong member of CEHD and the University of Minnesota community. Please stay in touch and connect with us through social media and future college events.

Best wishes for the future,

Michael C. Rodriguez
Dean and Campbell Leadership Chair

Recessional
There will not be a formal recessional. At the end of the ceremony, graduating students will be able to meet their guests in the stands.

“Hail! Minnesota”

Minnesota, hail to thee! Will proclaim thee near and far;
Hail to thee our college dear They will guard thy fame
Thy light shall ever be And adore thy name
A beacon bright and clear; Thou shalt be their Northern Star;
Thy sons and daughters true
Biographical Information

Michael C. Rodriguez

Michael C. Rodriguez, PhD, is the dean of the College of Education and Human Development and the Campbell Leadership Chair in Education and Human Development and a professor of educational psychology. He is a fifth-generation Minnesotan and first-generation college graduate, who received his BA from the Morris campus. His research focuses on understanding the psychometric properties of tests—for example, the use of constructed-response versus multiple-choice items. Michael works with school districts to develop methods for improving their use of large-scale test information to improve practices and policies. In addition, he is dedicated to improving the accessibility of assessments of students with disabilities and multilingual learners. Michael leads the Minnesota Youth Development Research Group which helps school districts make use of the Minnesota Student Survey, reporting on positive youth development and social and emotional learning. Michael provides advisory support and leadership to several national organizations, including the National Board of Professional Teaching Standards, National Assessment of Educational Progress, U.S. Department of Defense on military personnel testing, Association of American Medical Colleges, and National Council on Measurement in Education.

Ruth E. Johnson

Ruth Johnson is an internal medicine staff physician at the Mayo Clinic, practicing in the Executive Health Program. She was founding director of the Mayo Diagnostic Breast Clinic. She has spent 17 years on the Medical Scientist Training Program (MD-PhD) admissions committee, was associate director of the Internal Medicine Residency Program and chaired the bioethics course at the Mayo Clinic Alix School of Medicine. Ruth received a bachelor of arts degree in chemistry and biology from Augsburg University. She earned her MD from the Mayo Clinic Alix School of Medicine and completed an internal medicine residency program at the Mayo Graduate School of Medicine. She is certified in bioethics from the Georgetown University Kennedy School of Ethics and in medical education from the Harvard-Macy Program for Physician Educators. She served for 16 years on the Board of Regents of Augsburg University, during which time she served on presidential and academic dean search committees and was an integral part of two capital campaigns. She is also a Distinguished Alumna of Augsburg University.

John Leonard

John Leonard joined the University of Minnesota band faculty in the fall of 2021 after completing his DMA in wind conducting at the University of Kansas. In 2018 he was the interim assistant director of bands, and director of the Bronco Marching Band at Western Michigan University. Previously, John was the assistant director of bands at Northeastern University in Boston, Massachusetts, and worked as an adjunct lecturer at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst teaching music arranging techniques as well as leading the UMass “Hoop” Band and assisting with the Minuteman Marching Band. A prolific arranger, John writes music for many university marching bands, as well as working on new arrangements and transcriptions for wind band. In the summers, he teaches at the George N. Parks Drum Major Academy where he is both a lead clinician, as well as the staff manager for the company.
Special Announcements

The University of Minnesota Twin Cities is built within the traditional homelands of the Dakota people. Minnesota comes from the Dakota name for this region, Mni Sota Makoko—the land where the waters reflect the skies. The Circle of Indigenous Nations at the University of Minnesota recognizes the original peoples of this place and makes ongoing efforts to educate the campus community about the ongoing relationship that Dakota people have to this area.

—Iyekiyapiwin Darlene St. Clair, Bdewaŋtiwan Dakota

The Minnesota Tribal Nations Plaza is located on the main western entrance to Huntington Bank Stadium, across from 3M Arena at Mariucci. The plaza includes eleven, 18-foot tall sky markers, each of which incorporates information about one of Minnesota’s eleven Tribal Nations.
